VALLEY DRUG

Dear Mr. Playford:

On behalf of the Pembina Toastmistress Club, I wish to extend to you our sincere thanks for your fine coverage and co-operation during our Spring Conference.

Due to the help and support given to us by ourselves and the people of Drayton Valley we were able to enjoy a most successful conference.

The Pembina Club is truly and deeply appreciative to you for all you have done.

Sincerely,
Kathy Williams, Secretary,
Pembina Toastmistress Club.

Dear Worried Mothers:

If I weren't so mad I'd cry for you poor old ladies that you are. What happened to our Atomic Age? Get rid of your home and misery. Modern youth where is it? The boy of 15 today moves more than his grandfather did at 30. I do not believe in young marriages but I do believe in trust. If you are a mother of teen-agers, every now and then someone makes a dirty deal about our Drayton Valley teen-agers. They have no right to live in this God-forsaken town. What is so wrong in being a teen-ager? Age we so old and feeble that we can't remember our tears? Well I'm not. When I was a teen-ager I was built for what ever you want to call it. These were my golden years. If I had the chance to live it all once again I wouldn't miss a minute of it, including going steady. Turn back the pages of your own at all times. If you took the time to find out, why they really are like it, you'd find that they are a fine lot of young folks BUT THEY ARE TEEN-AGERS. So another kick in the face won't hurt them. Just as long as it isn't YOUR teen-agers. A teenager isn't a baby anymore so why treat them like one. It's not our children's fault that they have to live in this town. They have no choice in the matter.

When your teen-agers say "Come on Mom, I'll buy you a coffee and I'll take you out to see if the houses are worth anything. Well the houses are worth anything but our teenagers won't."

What is motherhood for if it isn't to help the teenagers. A baby sits in five for baby. Your teenager needs you far more than your baby ever did. How many others have never had a steady and still get in trouble. She was too much like the telephone post—any dog will do for her.

That's what's wrong in not going steady. Any self-respecting mother or father would be right down apologetic if they were told if you would have a back home in your bodies. I'm all for the teenagers of this town. At least they own up to the wrong they do and that's a lot more than can be said for some of the mothers of this town. Can your girls really and truly accuse any one of our teen-agers as a problem as you put it, or are you still not fashionable enough to think that because a girl or boy that comes from the wrong family is so good because his father or mother or someone else did something you don't know what but some one told you so. They're individuals so let's treat them as such. No child is ever born bad, they are driven to it.

Try it on your own but leave our alone. I still say the cure is at home, not in a Newspaper.

Mrs. Gloria Byers.

IN REPLY TO LAST WEEK'S LETTER BOX.

DEAR LADIES:

It is with great pity that I read the letter copied in last week's issue of this paper. You mothers who thought it to be valuable, must have a kindred feeling to the person who you quoted. You must feel that they have raised their teen-agers to be all the things mentioned therein.

It is very obvious that you have great misapprehension of the term "Going Steady." That term implies nothing immoral I assure you. It means a timely companionship in the various activities such as sports, dancing, school and even the old jockey rides. The rare case of immorality is any community or not among the "steady Goers" but the odd case of one who who is on the loose, picking up with Tom, Dick or Harry, believe me we have very few such young people in Drayton Valley.

The girl and boy who "Go Steady" are sure to want to impress each other by good behavior and neither one would wish to give cause for criticism of the other. The parent of a teen-ager should welcome ready companionship for their child from another family and should give their teen-ager a place for companionship.

Perhaps instead of asking for help for the rest of the community you could find it in your own back yard. Let your own teen-agers be good and under standing.

I see much of our young people and am among them some too, and I have just got another mark against you and all the other teen-agers of this town. They can think of us to be good kids. There isn't one of them who wouldn't try to please and help make you with they could realize the wonderful things they have as teen-agers and boy, just the time there is for such care-free fun.

The nearest we can come now to that, is to look at them and remember our own youth and "I'll bet you that when you mother did this very thing to you, it was in the mind. Oh, he might not be the one you chose to marry, it seldom is, but if you think back you sure to be wondering about the youngsters you held in such poor regard today. Please try to revise your list of thought and I'm sure you will have much less to worry over.

Ladies, if you cannot trust the youth of today, how? YES HOW? Can you have faith in the world of tomorrow.

At the bottom of this letter you will find my name. I feel you should have signed yours to your letter.

Sincerely,
W. Heyland.

DEAR WORRIED MOTHERS:

Tea will be served at the Byers residence from 2 to 3 p.m. on Saturday, April 21, 1962. Any worried mothers may come to discuss these problems with us if they like. A crying towel will be supplied if needed. Bring your "family handiwork" of squares with you if you can.

In reply to the letter in the Pembina News Advertiser, I, as a teen-ager, would like to express my opinion on whether or not teen-agers should go steady. I don't myself am going steady and I believe that it gives me something to look forward to, and it keeps me out of trouble. I would love to raise supreme chicken in this town sometimes, but my girl wouldn't like it so I don't do it.

The first Commandment my parents ever taught me was the one God put on a tablet of stone: "Thou shalt not go steady." I don't know what your teen-agers do or do not do, but I know you. Aren't they supposed to have fun like you did? Remember the reason that the Father sent his son to die for us was that he wanted a girl to be his son. Turn on your radio and listen to Hart Carleton. Maybe he can help you. Have you no love, respect, and understanding for your own teen-agers? If not why advertise it.

Chuck Byers.

FROM THE LEGISLATURE

The resolution asking extension of separate school privileges to school divisions of counties and asking payment of grants and relief from taxation was defeated on a standing vote 46 to 0.

The resolution requesting a strong move against the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation for showing a television film which had been loaned by the Alberta Censorship Board and an Appeal Board and asking the Board of Broadcast Governors to adopt regulations regarding television stations in Canada to comply with the laws of the respective provinces regarding public film showing. In a voice vote the resolution carried unanimously.

The resolution re public ownership of utilities as amended was carried. It endorsed the principles of private and corporate ownership of industry including utility companies as an integral part of a free enterprise economy. Another resolution asking that the position of Wood Buffalo Park located within Alberta be returned from the Federal Government to the Alberta Government was carried unanimously.

This brings to a close my report from the Legislature this session and I wish to thank the Editor for the privilege of bringing them to the attention of our readers. I trust each and all have been interested in them.

Life Insurance is a good investment

Buy protection from a life insurance company but invest your money elsewhere. This view, held by a number of people, reflects a belief that life insurance is a safe but unprofitable form of investment. But both the opinion and the belief behind it completely ignore the facts. The theoretical advantage of investing elsewhere soon evaporates in the light of Manufacturers Life's low premium deposits, liberal annual dividends and high returns on annuities. The rate of interest credited to policyholders compares more than favourably with net yields on good, reliable stocks and bonds. Behind this performance is progressive money management practiced by a group of specialists who administer a fund of one billion dollars. They have earned for the company a reputation for investment operations that produce an enviable combination of profit and safety. These men work for you when you invest in a Manufacturers Life policy.

This story is far from complete. There are many additional practical advantages of investing in life insurance. The Men from Manufacturers would welcome the opportunity to give you the complete picture.

There here, but congratulate me on my very success.

Drinking coffee with a man in the Hotel Coffee Shop that other day, he looked out the window at the sign in one of our local department stores. He read the sign: "National Baby Food".

We need that in Drayton Valley," he said.

Decide to partly part: "Follow the die, and in a couple of months I want to see three-fourths of you back here for a check-up."

Editorial Comment

The worth of anything may be fairly accurately judged by the number of those who praise or condemn it. On that basis we can form a reasonably accurate appraisal of the current series of lectures that the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, in conjunction with the Alberta Chamber of Commerce, is conducting in the seminars that they are holding in many Alberta centres and which they held in Drayton Valley last Friday.

Called "Operation Freedom," the lecture is given by members of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce in conjunction with the seminars that the national and provincial chambers arrange to give local Chambers help in setting up programs, committees, etc., in order to help in the work of the local Chamber.

Judging from the loud screams of such left-wingers and Mr. Tommy Douglas, new national party leader of the New Democratic Party, "Operation Freedom" may be classed as an unqualified success. Mr. Douglas is a socialist of the first order, even if his inclinations and sympathies don't go any further afield than that. In Vancouver, over the past weekend, Tommy voiced his disapproval of "Operation Freedom". Others of the left-wing have also fallen into the party line and have stated their disapproval of the Chamber approach of series of public addresses.

Mr. Reg. Clark, Alberta Manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce and head of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce presented the case as outlined by the Canadian Chamber quite well at the seminar he conducted, under the auspices of the Drayton Valley Chamber of Commerce, held in Pan American Safety Hall, last Friday. Primarily the talk dealt with the very basis of the democratic concept of freedom, with its "True Enterprise". When the case starts taking over the functions of what should be delegated to a free enterprise system it is not too long, until other basic freedoms go by the board also. A case of the old saw and the camel who goes in one in the door flap of the tent and comes right on in with the rest of his body.

Perhaps the best publicity "Operation Freedom" can possibly have, then, will come from its opponents. It is rather sad that Mr. Douglas had to stand his case at the seminar previous to last Friday when it was held here in Drayton Valley and community folk.

Stated briefly "Operation Freedom" which might also be designated "Program With Freedom" states the four following premises:

1. The economic problems of Canada, faced as we are with a competitive world.
2. The current threat of socialism in Canada at the political level demands our attention if we wish to maintain our political and economic freedom.
3. The increased Communist attention offensive within Canada has become a threat to our basic freedom.
4. The apathy and indifference of Canadians with respect to freedom and evidence of growing dependence on government.

It is rather, the Chamber's concern that any loss of freedom is personal loss to each and every Canadian and the cumulative effect will be a less prosperous and less free Canada.

Oil Wives' International Night

The Oil Wives' met in the Elks Hall on Monday evening April 15th to celebrate their International Night. Before dinner was served, Eve Haves lighted the "Friendship Candle" which is symbolic of this club affiliation with all other Oil Wives clubs in Canada and other parts of the world. There were 130 members and their guest in attendance.

Business discussed at the meeting was as follows: It was decided that again this year the club would contribute to the International Travel Fund as it has in past years. Referring Program Chairman Joan Machan was presented with a derrick coffee spoon and Lil Ross will take over the position for the remainder of the term.

Winners of the door prize drawn for at the conclusion of the meeting were: Donnie Smith, Carol Morris and Eva McMillan.

Again this time the evening entertainment was based on the theme "Around the World" to coincide with International Night.

The first number on the program was entitled "Dr. Kill Quick", the Medicine Man. This em-bodied four acts in one. Dr. Kill Quick explained the virtues of his wonderful cure-all product and as a bonus to the audience presented his travelling show. Two lovely dancers from the east Indian nation, a colorful dancing bear and five Indian maidens who did their own special version of a war dance.

Act 62 was a very humorous monologue by "Yodanis Sam. From Australia came bill looking robes of Aborigines who sang "My Boomerang".

MAKE A STORY WITH EASTER PICTURES

Regardless of the weather, Easter offers some of the best picture-taking opportunities of the year.

If the day is sunny and warm, you'll want to take your camera outdoors for photos of the family leaving for church, and of mother and daughter dressed in their best. Then, too, you'll have a chance to take photos of spring landscapes and some of the first flowers of the year.

Whether you shoot in color or black and white, remember that you'll get best results with plain, uncluttered backgrounds that don't clash with Easter finery. Perhaps the best background of all, on a clear day, is the blue sky itself.

Direct sunlight sometimes causes deep, harsh shadows, especially on faces. Try moving into a shaded area.

But if Easter should prove dull and rainy, don't let that stop your picture-taking. After all, Easter offers many indoor picture opportunities—for example, mother combing the youngster's hair, the children discovering Easter bunnies, eggs and presents parents visiting the house. These are all chapters in your family's Easter story.

For indoor shots, you'll want basic essentials—flash bulbs. With flash, indoor pictures are just about as easy as outdoor shots on a sunny afternoon. In one sense, the flash makes the light from the flash is always the same, while the sun isn't nearly so dependable.

Watch your distance carefully. It's a mistake to let the subject determine the correct exposure. You can learn the proper subject-to-flash distances by reading the instructions packed with your film.

Sentimental songs in 2,000

What will sentimental couples do for anniversary

This question has been troubling my friend Jim.

"All right," Jim said, "The band leader calls out: 'We're feeling misty tonight for George and Gladys — It's their 2000th wedding anniversary. And now, in honor of George and Gladys, we're going to play that sweet old melody, 'Rock Around the Clock'."

"You see what I mean?" Jim said. "Or maybe it will be Oliver Twist. Now are they going to come in 50 years?"

"Right now it's easy," Jim said.

over that this building program will have upon the property owners of the Division.

The Provincial Department of Education is very anxious that school boards undertake new school construction on a pay-as-you-go basis and under the new Foundation Program started in 1961, the Department makes permanent allowances for debt service payments which means that the program assures the cost of all necessary school construction from now on.

In order to see that this is not abused, the school board is advised to send its plans for new construction to the School Building Assistance Board of the Department of Education. The new building plans for the Stony Plain School Division have met with the approval of that Board and are eligible for the amount of $188,000.00 for debt service payments. For the buildings proposed for this year only $50,400.00 of this allowance will be used. This means that the Stony Plain School Division could build much more this year without increasing the tax levy on the property owners of the Division.

At no cost to our Division other than the 25 mill rate, this new building program can be carried out for the benefit of our boys and girls. They deserve the support of every parent. Be sure to exercise your rights to vote on April 22nd between the hours of 2:00 and 7:00 p.m.

CHIEF OF COMMERCE

The noon luncheon held in the Cardium Room was quite well attended, as many Chamber members who were unable to attend the Seminar took time out for the luncheon. Mr. Clark was the speaker for the luncheon and gave a very good address. Following the luncheon a reception ing the group went back to the American Safety Hall where a very excellent forum on how to attract the business of a Chamber of Commerce, to make it a valuable adjunct to the community was conducted. Part of the discussion included what membership fees should be set; depending largely, of course on the size of the membership and the functioning of the Chamber in the community. Days and Means was also a topic of discussion, what projects might be undertaken to raise money or to publicize the community. It was suggested that a pamphlet, outlining the need of the Chamber of Commerce, be prepared and that the "Evening speaker for the evening was Walter Jorgensen, parliamentary secretary to Agriculture Minister, Alvin Hamilton. Mr. Jorgensen is M.P. for Provencher Constituency, representing the vast Lake of the Woods district, in north-eastern Manitoba.

Reasons why I should be a Member of the Chamber of Commerce" be included in the pamphlet. Mr. Clark and Mr. Purdy suggested many methods, as the result of their observation of other Chambers of Commerce by which a town and community could be publicized and the work of the Chamber of Commerce could be made effective.

While, as stated, the multi-member in the Seminar was not very large, those members who did attend felt that they had received much benefit from the course. It is expected that the last Chamber of Commerce which has been in a most or less moribund state the past two or three years, will be revitalized and will become a driving force in the community, as all Chambers of Commerce should be.

and it is a very impressive record. He said that in the constituency four federal buildings had been built and that land had been acquired for three more. One of the sites in which land has been acquired is in Drayton Valley where a recent purchase of a downtown tract of land will assure the erection of a federal building here in the near future. He mentioned the railroad soon to be built from Whitecourt. Dr. Homer stated that his government and he himself had pushed construction on the Yellowhead Highway, but since it was also a provincial matter the Government of B.C. had to concur in the decision, but that in spite of that, good progress is being made toward the construction of the Yellowhead route to the coast.

Dr. Homer cited figures to prove that unemployment has been by a wide margin than it was five years ago when the present government took office. He spoke of the many articles of legislation that had aided farmers, particularly the farmers of Jasper-Edson constituency. Water conservation programs he said, were in process of construction in the constituency. In rural housing, he said, the federal government had done an excellent job of making mortgage money available, to enable a young married couple, starting out on a farm to get a house built right away. The same applied for small towns and villages in Canada than ever before. Dr. Homer stated that airports in the riding had received much help.

Speaking about the national oil policy the speaker stated that Jasper-Edson riding produces more than half of the oil produced in Alberta. He said the national oil policy was working out very well. Dr. Homer also stated that the export of natural gas is going to be a great boon to the peoples of Alberta and, of course, to Jasper-Edson constituency.

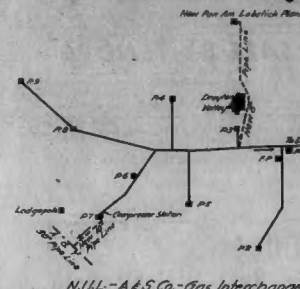

Guest speaker for the evening was Walter Jorgensen, parliamentary secretary to Agriculture Minister, Alvin Hamilton. Mr. Jorgensen is M.P. for Provencher Constituency, representing the vast Lake of the Woods district, in north-eastern Manitoba.

MRS. MINDA MASTRO

Among this district's early pioneers is Mrs. Minda Mastror, now 85 years young, and if the good Lord will she will celebrate her 86th birthday. Mrs. Mastror was born in Norway. Her parents brought her, at the age of four, to the U.S., settling in Minnesota where at that time thousands of Scandinavians were settling. She married in Minnesota and then in 1904 the old Viking couple of the colonies climbed her again and she emigrated to Saskatchewan with her husband and the first four of the eleven children which were born to them. The other eight children being born after they came to Saskatchewan. They settled in the region that is now known as Viceroy, Sask., but which at that time was still largely unpopulated virgin prairie, with the town of Viceroy not even legally yet.

Home & School

School buildings planned for Drayton Valley and Stony Plain will not cause an increase in local taxation said the Minister of Education, the honorable Mr. O. Ashburn at a special meeting arranged jointly by the Drayton Valley Home and School Association and the School Board.

Mr. Ashburn addressed a large audience at the meeting which was held in the Drayton Valley elementary school auditorium. The meeting was called to acquaint parents and taxpayers with the school building programme. Explaining the Foundation Programme and its administration, Mr. Ashburn went on to say that there would be a surplus of $90,000 in the
